Archbishop William E. Lori, Apostolic Administrator for the Diocese of Wheeling-Charleston, has approved a special collection to be held the weekend of Nov. 10-11 in all parishes and missions throughout the diocese to support recovery efforts related to the recent natural disasters that have occurred across the country.

Proceeds from this collection will support the humanitarian and recovery efforts of Catholic Charities USA and Catholic Relief Services and will provide pastoral support and rebuilding assistance to impacted dioceses through the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops. As we hold the victims and first responders in our prayers during these critical days, let us also spend time in prayer and discernment as we prepare for this upcoming collection. Let us come together now to support our brothers and sisters in Christ who are suffering this horrible loss.

For those who wish to make a gift now, you may contribute online at https://catholiccharitiesusa.org. Please remember in prayer those who have lost their lives as a result of the storms and flooding, as well as all those who are injured and lost their homes, cars, employment, access to food and water and to those who remain without electricity or are stranded.

— Tim Bishop
Director of Marketing and Communications for the Diocese of Wheeling-Charleston

We keep our Buildings & Grounds Committee busy! They meet on a monthly basis and the agenda is always full.

It takes a lot of work to keep up with a campus the size of ours and that includes six buildings! The Buildings and Grounds Committee agenda tackles everything from replacing light fixtures to purchasing a new lawn mower. One facet which was recently reviewed of our property is the cross which sits on top of our church bell tower.

Several months ago I happened to notice something peculiar on the cross. I grabbed the binoculars and took a closer look. Hmmm. Was that the reinforcing bar I was seeing? Before long, Joe Bourgo and Monsignor Peterson and I were peering through the binoculars and it was unanimously decided that yes, indeed, that’s rebar.

A large chunk of concrete has fallen from the cross!

As much as I dislike the sight of a damaged cross, I think it may be a metaphor. Please join me in pondering the strength of the cross. The center core is solid! What do you think the rebar might represent?

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION
Just two years ago, we engaged in one of the core activities of our democratic system: a presidential election. Actually, the institution of election can be traced to traditions in the Church, and although bishops are no longer chosen in this way, abbots and abbesses (heads of monastic communities) have almost always been elected by full voting members of their communities. The lifetime appointment begins when the monks or nuns are gathered in “chapter” at the death or resignation of the abbot, and fortunately for all involved, campaigning is not allowed! The members of the community discern, with prayer to the Holy Spirit, who among them is the best suited for leadership. Once chosen, the new leader requests the blessing of the local bishop, who usually presides at a ceremony of consecration or investiture. The ballots are always secret, and a simple majority must be achieved.

In our American system the Electoral College is the determining voice in the presidential election, not the popular election on a November Tuesday, just as the monastic chapter is the electorate. Today, most religious orders elect general superiors in “chapter” by delegates of the professed members, and usually for a term of six years.

A few, like the Jesuits, elect for life. At least we don’t have that weight on our shoulders when we choose a president. Four years at a time will do!

Are Catholics Obliged to Vote?
The Church teaches that we have a moral obligation to vote. This obligation is not an absolute, neither binding where it is not legal, nor where there is great difficulty or impeded by unforeseen sickness or other obstacles. Catholics should vote according to their consciences, keeping in mind that certain issues have a greater weight than others. We live in a highly complex society with correspondingly complex moral issues. Catholics are permitted and at times obliged to support initiatives which seek to limit unjust laws. All moral issues must be weighed carefully in the conscience when deciding how and for whom to vote.

For more information on conscience and voting, see the USCCB’s publication Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship and the Vatican’s document Doctrinal Note on some questions regarding The Participation of Catholics in Political Life.

- This is the first time an abortion-related vote has EVER been put on the ballot in West Virginia.
- Over the years, West Virginia taxpayers have paid for nearly 35,000 abortions at almost $10 million dollars for the entire nine months of pregnancy for any reason or no reason at all.
- Abortions will remain legal in West Virginia when Amendment 1 passes this November. Only taxpayer funding of elective abortions will end. Taxpayer funding of abortions for medical emergency will continue.
- Only 16 other states in the nation require taxpayer funding of elective abortions.
- A Marist Poll, 1/18, indicated that 60% of Americans oppose their tax dollars paying for elective abortions.
